Rising Youth Community Service Grants

Rising Youth Community Service Grants empower young people, ages 15-30, to imagine ideas that can support their local community and help put those ideas into action through grants of $250, $750 or $1,500. A dedicated team of youth engagement activators are available nationwide to answer questions related to the application process and provide ongoing project support to make sure youth projects are thriving and successful. This initiative is administered by TakingITGlobal and funded by the government of Canada through its Canada Service Corps initiative. The next application deadline is September 30.
