

Advanced Placement Program

The Advanced Placement Program is a cooperative endeavour between high schools, colleges, and universities. The main goal of the program is to enable willing and academically prepared students to develop university-level knowledge and skills while still in high school.

AP is recognized at nearly all colleges and universities in the US and Canada – and at many other institutions in more than 100 countries.

AP courses are highly valued in admissions applications; students with an accepting AP exam score may qualify for transfer credit or advanced admission standing, or both.
