General Announcements:

Ribbon Skirt Day- Today marks Canada's first National Ribbon Skirt Day. It was inspired by Isabella Kulak, a member of the Cote First Nation in Saskatchewan who wore a ribbon skirt to her rural Saskatchewan school in December 2020, when she was 10 years old. She wore the colourful garment, donned by Indigenous women at cultural events, as part of a formal day — but her family said at the time that a staff member told her the outfit wasn't considered formal enough.

The hope is for today to become a day to wear something that shows pride of who you are whether or not that is a ribbon skirt. Hiy hiy!!
